We are delighted to have five wonderful guest speakers from our Daubeney village, each with a wealth of experience around managing SEND within their personal and/or professional lives.

Our Local School Committee Chair of Governors, and Black and Global Majority Parent Committee Lead, Ms Annwen Johnson BEM, will be sharing her story and how she manages neurodivergence in both her professional and personal life. Ms Mavis Boatemaa, member of the Black and Global Majority Parent Committee and a mother of an autistic child, will be sharing her successes and her message. This will be followed by two further presentations: Ms Ronnie Haynes, a parent advocate, recently joining Daubeney Primary after the closure of St Dominics Primary and, Ms Mary Oge Chuks, a mother of three autistic children, an author, advocate and community voice, who will inspire us with her experience and wisdom gained over 14 years as being part of the Daubeney village. Our final presentation will be from Mr Patryk Flissikowski, a keynote speaker specialising in SEND, author and lead practitioner within our Rainbow Provision, focussing on supporting the needs of autistic pupils.

The presentations will be followed by a panel Q&A session, where the floor will be open for our audience / parent community to ask questions to our panel of presenters. This will be an opportunity for you to share your thoughts on the topics presented.

As parents, and major stakeholders in our school community, you are all warmly invited, especially those who are parents of children diagnosed with SEND, to attend the meeting and share your views for us to implement here at Daubeney. As we all know, ‘If it’s good for SEND it’s good for all.’
